

GOMPERS STILL IS UNDER FIRE

Labor Federation Meeting in New Orleans Will Take Charges Up in a Few Days.

PENSION PROBLEM

Berger, of Milwaukee, Proposes Plan to Help All Aged Working People in Country.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.) New Orleans, Nov. 18.—Contrary to all expectations the Gompers investigating committee did not meet nor was any report made of the sensational charges brought against the association at yesterday's session. The member of the committee has not yet been appointed.

Socialistic Debate
The morning session was largely taken up by a socialistic debate on the question of pensioning aged working people in the United States. The result will be either an effort to have such legislation enacted or the question will be dropped.

Berger's Plan
The plan, originated in Delegate Berger of Milwaukee, who has presented it to the meeting and is urging its adoption. He is most enthusiastic and it is probable that he may have a favorable vote taken upon it this afternoon.

A Social Democrat
Mr. Berger is the head of the Social Democratic party in Wisconsin and is a most enthusiastic worker along his line of work.

PANAMA WANTS ITS SHARE OF MONEY

Will Demand Twenty Percent of Amount Paid to Colombia for Canal Rights.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.) Kingston, Jamaica, Nov. 18.—It is stated that Panama is very fearful that Colombia will take the whole of the money to be obtained from the United States for the purchase of the right of way across the Isthmus and that it will not receive its share of the money. They base their observations on the same grounds as they did when Colombia took all the money received from the French government when the canal was started in the beginning. The Panama branch of the government hold that if the United States pays $7,000,000 for the right of way that they should receive at least twenty per cent of the money.

WANTS TO PLAY

Billiard Champion of State and Michigan Wishes to Sewauke Match.
A. J. Walters, of Milwaukee, a billiard and pool expert, who claims the championship of this state and Michigan, was in the city today to attempt to arrange a match for Friday night. He wishes to meet the best player in the city in a hundred ball match. During the contest he will give an exhibition of fancy cue and billiard shots. Tomorrow night Mr. Walters will play W. R. Smith at Evansville, and on the following evening will meet the best player of Edgerton. The night after he hopes to be able to return to this city.

Fossils Found in England.
Two roots and the trunk of a fossil tree have just been unearthed at Bradford, England.

PORTUGUESE KING NOW AT WINDSOR

Is on a Visit to Edward VII., by Whom He Is Met at the Station.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.) London, Nov. 18.—The King of Portugal arrived in Windsor tonight from France to pay a visit to the King and Queen of England.

King Edward, who had come directly from Sandringham, met him at the station. The two monarchs embraced one another most cordially and then drove off to the castle, accompanied by the cheers of the crowds which gathered outside of the station and along the route. A great banquet was given at Windsor Castle in honor of the royal guest.

As the present is the first occasion on which King Edward has visited the town of Windsor since his illness, the inhabitants of the borough gave him an elaborate reception.

The other ruler at present in England, the German emperor, had good shooting today on the estate of the Earl of Londale, whose guest he has been at Lowther Castle since Saturday.

The emperor will take luncheon with Lord Roseberry at the latter's seat at Dalmeny, Scotland, next Friday on his way back to Germany.

DO NOT EXPECT COAL SHIPMENTS

Dealers Believe That No Coal Will Be Brought in Any Quantity To This City Before January.

Coal dealers say that they do not expect to receive any more coal before the first of January. There may be cases where a dealer will be able to secure a single carload, but any regular shipments are not expected. When questioned regarding the coal that is being brought by boat to Racine, Milwaukee and other lake ports, they say that that will be used almost entirely for the consumption of those cities. Those ports do not rely at all on the railroads to transport their coal supply, and they must fill their orders with haste before the steamers are taken out of commission for the winter.

WOOD ALCOHOL CAUSES DEATHS

Poison Found in Demijohn Costs Two Men Their Lives—Others May Die.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Five of the Men Who Made Fatal Mistake Are in a Critical Condition Today.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.) Sharon, Pa., Nov. 18.—Sunday afternoon eight men found a demijohn which they thought contained whiskey near one of the residences and drank a quantity of it. Two are now dead and five are in a critical condition.

Wood Alcohol
Instead of whiskey the demijohn is found to have contained wood alcohol and it is thought that the jug was left in the place it was found for the purpose of enticing the men to drink.

Three Dying
Two of the men died Sunday night in awful agonies and three this morning were found in apparently a dying condition. The whereabouts of one of the eight is not known. All the victims were well-known in the city.

WOLVES DRIVE HUNTER TO THE TALL TIMBER

Michigan Man Is Lost in the Woods and Climbs a Tree to Escape Ferocious Beasts.

Houghton, Mich., Nov. 18.—Tired by a pack of wolves, E. C. Goodrich, Inspector of the Michigan Telephone Company at Houghton, remained for two days and nights with nothing to eat near King lake, below Nestoria. He had been hunting with other copper country men. They killed a deer at a considerable distance from camp, started back in the wrong direction and soon were hopelessly lost. At dark Goodrich heard wolves and took to a tree. At dawn, the wolves having gone, he climbed down, nearly frozen, and wandered that day and part of the next. Finally he struck a railroad track and got his bearings. Friends had tried to find him; but gave up the search, thinking he had been shot for a deer.

POSTAL REFORMS ARE TALKED OF

Third Assistant Postmaster General Advocates Change in Law for Second Class Matter.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.) Washington, D. C., Nov. 18.—Edwin C. Madden, third assistant postmaster general, in his annual report, made public today, recommends the establishment of the following new postage rates:

A new rate at 4 cents a pound for all publications now admitted to the second class mail, except daily, tri-weekly, semi-weekly, and weekly newspapers, in the generally understood sense of the word newspaper. This rate is to be paid on the bulk weight without regard to the number of pieces the same as is now the case under the pound rate. The consolidation of the third and fourth classes of mail matter and that the postage thereon be at the rate of 1 cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof, to be prepaid by stamps affixed, is advised.

Concerning the public impression that 1 cent postage is probable in the near future, Mr. Madden says it is altogether too soon to consider a reduction of the letter rate of postage on the mere basis that the reforms in second class mail matter will save enough to the government to compensate it for the loss of revenue through the reduction of the letter rate.

BREAKS ALL THE COALING RECORDS

Cruiser New York Is Loaded at Honolulu in Six Hours, While the Band Plays.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.) Honolulu, Nov. 18.—The Cruiser New York broke the navy record for coaling here yesterday, putting in 850 tons of coal in six hours. This remarkable speed was due to the fact that the full band of the ship played during the whole time that the jacksies were rushing the coal aboard.

The employment of the band was suggested to Capt. Mackenzie by the bandmaster's application for forty-eight hours' leave of absence from the ship to get away from the dust and dirt of coaling. Instead, the captain ordered the band to play for eight hours. It was stationed on the bridge during the coaling and reeled off martial airs.

Two rival gangs of jacksies were coaling, one getting the coal from a lighter alongside and the other from the wharf. The jacksies trundled wheelbarrows of coal at a lively trot.

EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS DO DAMAGE IN UTAH

Spring at Pine Valley Turns into Spouting Geyser, Throwing Water 100 Feet into the Air.

Salt Lake, Utah, Nov. 18.—An earthquake shook the state of Utah, doing damage all over the state. The shocks were comparatively light in Salt Lake, but in the southern part of the state buildings were ruined and other serious damage done.

In St. George, a place of 3,000 population in the southwestern part of the state, nine distinct shocks were felt. The school building was shaken so violently that the ceilings were shattered. The falling plaster caused a panic and the children rushed from the building, the teachers losing all control.

The tower of the Mormon temple at St. George oscillated ten inches at its top, and the spire of the tabernacle was shaken out of perpendicular.

In Pine Valley a spring near the center of the town which always furnished a steady supply of clear cold water spouted up like a geyser. First it rose only a dozen feet in the air. Then came another shock and a hissing, steaming column of water rose to a height of fully one hundred feet. After the shocks subsided the flow remained strong, although there was no more spouting.

In Salt Lake the shocks were felt on the upper floors of the high buildings. In the office of the United States weather bureau on the top floor of the Dooley block, the clock was stopped by the shock.

FAVOR EXTENSION OF RURAL MAIL DELIVERY

National Grangers in Session at Lansing Make Numerous Recommendations to Congress.

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 18.—The committee on legislation reported to the national grange, which is in annual session here. The report favors extension of the rural mail system, postal savings banks, early completion of the Nicaragua canal, the building of a canal to connect the Mississippi, great lakes and Atlantic, the election of United States senators by popular vote, improved pure food laws, a constitution amendment giving congress the power to regulate and control all corporations and combinations of capital of a monopolistic nature, thus preventing the use of their corporate power to restrain trade or arbitrarily fix prices, and additional powers for the interstate commerce commission.

The passage of the ship subsidy bill is opposed. The report of Grand Lecturer Racheider favors the teaching of agriculture in rural schools.

HALF-BREED INDIAN SHOOT TWO GIRLS

Whisky and Dancing in Quarantined Camp Inflames Man, Who Fires Into a Crowd.

Helena, Mont., Nov. 18.—A serious shooting affray is reported at a camp of halfbreeds near Hinsdale, in which one of the men shot and killed two young girls. The murderer's name is given as LaFrambale and his victims were the young daughters of Charles Meltre, one aged 12 years and the other aged 5. The older girl was mortally shot in the groin and the younger was shot through the stomach. Smallpox has existed in the camp for some time, and it has been under quarantine. The Indians have been indulging freely in whisky and dancing, and the result has been that they became greatly excited. At the dance a quarrel arose and LaFrambale seized a double-barreled shotgun and fired into the crowd, the charges striking the two Meltre girls.

NEW ERUPTION OF STROMBOLI

Crater of the Italian Mount Ejects Lava with Terrific Explosion.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.) Rome, Nov. 18.—A fresh eruption of the volcano Stromboli occurred yesterday evening, accompanied by a terrific explosion and a great flow of lava. It was a magnificent spectacle, visible from all of the northern part of Sicily, the flames rising from the volcano illuminating the surrounding sea.

The situation of the few inhabitants of the island of Stromboli is precarious. They are frightened especially by the washing ashore of great quantities of dead fish, which have been killed apparently by a submarine disturbance.

A number of yachts from Naples and other places have visited the waters surrounding the island to allow those on board to view the eruption.

Honolulu, Nov. 11, via San Francisco, Nov. 17.—A wireless message received here this morning from the island of Hawaii states that the volcano Kilauea has broken out in the most violent eruption for the past twenty years. Kilauea has shown mild intermittent activity since the outbreak at St. Pierre.

SHIPPING LARGE LOADS OF GRAIN

Several Carloads Have Been Sent from This City Daily—Is a Large Amount for This City.

With the return of more element weather the commission merchants are again making large daily shipments of grain. The only thing which stands to prevent still larger quantities from being sent away is the possibility that the farmers will become occupied in corn husking or some other duties around their farms and will not have time to haul their produce to market. During the last week for several days the shipments from a single house amounted to over two carloads a day, which is a high average for this city. This week they have started out with one car a day.

MacVeagh Insists That as He Did Not Prevent Acts, He Must Be Held To Blame.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.) Scranton, Nov. 18.—President Mitchell's examination by McVeagh was again the opening feature of the session of the strike commission today. The question of violence was taken up and Mitchell said that he did not approve of it.

Held Responsible
Mr. McVeagh held Mitchell morally responsible for all acts of violence and disorder from the influence he had over the man and which he failed to exert. Mitchell said

JANESVILLE HAS TWO COMPETITORS

FORT ATKINSON AND MADISON ARE ONLY RIVALS.

CLAIM STATE CHAMPIONSHIP

Comparative Scores Prove Janesville in Lead—Hope for Opportunity to Prove Superior Strength.

Janesville now stands with only two competitors for the high school grid-iron championship of the state, Fort Atkinson and Madison. In a game played with the former school the resultant score was 9 to 0. With the Capital City team the locals were defeated 6 to 0, the score having been made on a fumble in the first few minutes of play.

Ahead of Fort Atkinson Comparative scores are a decidedly unreliable source of information, and can be so manipulated as to prove about any desired proposition. But they often bring out some comfortable facts, and this is especially true in the present case. For example Fort Atkinson beat Lake Mills 5 to 0, while South Side Milwaukee defeated the same team 24 to 6. Janesville shut South Side out by ten points; therefore, Janesville is way ahead of Fort Atkinson. Q. E. D.

Does Not Mean Much But it must be remembered that by the converse of this reasoning South Side proved to their satisfaction, before last Saturday that they could easily take the Bower City boys into camp. So it does not necessarily indicate a great deal. Another string of figures which are used to show Janesville superiority are based on the fact that Fort Atkinson defeated Madison 11 to 10, and it has already been shown that Janesville is stronger than the Fort. Therefore, etc.

Three Schools Left Outside of these three high schools practically all of the championship claimants have been disposed of. Early in the season Whitewater tried the locals, but has been repeatedly defeated since. Eau Claire was commonly conceded the pennant winner last year, and has held claim to the same distinction in the present season, but on Saturday they were put out of the way by Madison. East Side Milwaukee was beaten by Green Bay, and next Saturday's game between the East and South Sides will give a line on comparative merit in these directions. Coach Downer is confident of victory for the latter team.

Locals Are Strong Laying away all juggling and mathematical tables, and talk of what might, or should be done, Janesville has a strong team, as every one will admit who saw the game Saturday. Old football fans went crazy as they saw the nifty fight the boys put up. If either Fort Atkinson or Madison can be induced to grant another game, and it takes place on the local grounds the team can be assured of a hearty support whether they win or lose, and it will be a bitter surprise if the boys fail to come out on top.

LIVELY BASE BALL

Ladies of Power Behind the Throne Company Do Funny Stunts.

Four members of "The Power Behind the Throne" company furnished entertainment for a limited audience yesterday afternoon by an exhibition of base ball playing and a right clever game it was, considering the fact that two of the four were women. In truth the ladies had considerably the better of it, in their own estimation at least, and their sallies at the awkwardness of their associates bristled with sarcasm. "Do I look anything like that?" and "You're the man who was going to teach me, are you?" were among the roasts of which the young ladies delivered themselves. The quartette make a practice of spending a few minutes in practice almost every day, and have become fairly expert. The practice yesterday took place in the middle of the road on Bluff street, near the opera house.

DENISON TROPHY CONTENDED FOR

Sophomores and Seniors of the High School Hope to Establish Possession This Afternoon.

No positive predictions are being made. But it is sincerely hoped that before six o'clock this evening either the Seniors or Sophomores of the High school will have won the right of possession of the Denison Cup for the coming year. In addition to that the victorious class will be entitled to have its name engraved on the cup with that of the class of 1902 which twice won the coveted trophy.

Since the graduation of the latter class last June the cup has been resting in the place it occupied all last year, and the year before, when it was given to the school by Rev. R. C. Denison. In front of the Senior class. A large number expect it to remain in its present place through the coming year. Others believe the underclassmen will win it out.

Last Tuesday at the end of forty-six minutes of play the two teams were tied, neither eleven having succeeded in pushing the leather over the other's goal line. This afternoon the play, unless again interrupted by darkness, will continue until one or the other team makes a winning score.

C. H. HAMILTON TO LECTURE TONIGHT

His Description of London and the Coronation Will Be Illustrated with Fine Views.

Hon. Charles Hamilton of Milwaukee has decided to visit this city on his illustrated lecture tour for 1902-03 and will deliver a lecture on "London and the Coronation" tomorrow evening. This discourse includes a hundred views taken under Mr. Hamilton's personal supervision. He was particularly fortunate in securing views of the coronation ceremonies, not only those of the great procession to and from the Abbey, but also the beautiful tableaux enacted inside the cathedral when the king was crowned surrounded by all his princes and nobility and clergy in their respective magnificent robes. Mr. Hamilton will also tell of side trips to Hadden Hall, Kenilworth and Oxford, and will describe as well "Dickens' London" and many other points of interest in the greatest metropolis of the modern world. As Mr. Hamilton's gifts as a speaker have been demonstrated with marked success by a lecture delivered in Milwaukee entitled "Mistakes of History." The present tour promises to place Mr. Hamilton's name second to none on the list of popular lecturers of the day.

PRINCE OF DREAMS

At the Myers Grand on Thursday evening, "The Prince of Dreams," an entirely new play, written by Mr. Walter Hackett, a Chicago journalist of reputation, will be presented for the first time. The presenting company is known as the Players' Stock Co., and is headed by Mr. Emmett Corrigan, admittedly one of the foremost of American actors. This organization will play ten performances of the drama prior to opening for the season at the new Bush Temple of Music, Chicago, which is to be devoted to the better class of plays presented with careful attention to every detail. Mr. Corrigan enjoys the distinction of having played the three most important parts in "Ben Hur," in the title part of which he received the most flattering praise. He has recently appeared in the leading role of productions at the Dearborn theater, Chicago, and his elevation to the head of a splendid company, with a Chicago playhouse at his disposal, is evidence of the esteem in which he is held in that city.

COMPANY FORMED TO BUY COMPANY

Milwaukee and Racine Capitalists Make an Offer for Badger Phone Stock.

A circular has been mailed to the stockholders of the Badger State Long Distance Telephone Co. this week, informing them that parties well backed financially propose purchasing the various interests represented in the company and offer $25 for each of the 270 shares, or to exchange for each share 50 of stock in the new organization. Foreclosure proceedings have been started on the bonds issued and the property must bring more than $40,000 in order to leave anything for stockholders. The transfer must take place before the sale by foreclosure, which will undoubtedly wipe out the stock.

Be Independent It is stated that it is too early to complete the details of the reorganization but the stockholders are assured that the company will remain independent and that the property will be put in the very best condition. There is some fear if the property is foreclosed of the possibility of falling into the hands of the Bell company.

Extend Lines The stockholders are told that the new management will extend the lines to connect with Burlington, Corlies, Racine, Kenosha, and Milwaukee when the necessary exchanges are installed; also with Freeport, Rockford, Whitewater, Waukesha and probably copper connections will be made with Elgin, Aurora and Fox river valley lines in Illinois.

It is quite probable that a majority of the shareholders will readily accept the terms.

HUNTERS WANT SPRING SEASON

LEGISLATURE MAY ENACT NEW LAW THIS WINTER.

DUCKS DO NOT LINGER LONG

Lack of Feed at Lake Koshkonong, Caused by High Water or Carp.

The duck shooting season at Lake Koshkonong, is nearly at an end. The ducks are becoming scarce every day, as the season advances toward winter. While there are some ducks coming into the lake from the north, the flight toward the south from the lake is the largest and the birds are gradually growing less and less. The shooting season as a whole has been fair. The regular hunters, while they have had no big days, have managed to kill a fair number of birds. To the hunter dependent upon a blind and having the birds come to his decoys, in order to get any shooting, the season has been very discouraging. In numerous cases they have watched a flock of decoys for two or three days without getting a shot. The sneak boat hunter has also had many off days, but usually with them when a bunch of ducks settled among their decoys, they killed more at the one run than the blind shooter would kill in several chances.

The canvas back have acted all the fall, about the same as they did last year. They come to the lake in fair numbers, but would not stay over a day or two. Enough canvas back came to the lake to make good shooting, if they had stayed any length of time, but they did not and the hunters were dependent largely upon the fresh flights of birds for their shooting. There were more black-heads and blue bills at the lake this fall than there has been in several years, but these birds were not there in any large number more than a day or two.

Lack of feed is the main reason given by the hunters for the birds not staying in the lake, but whether this is caused by the carp or the continued high water is a disputed question. There is one thing certain, that the high water is doing, and that it is washing the mud and vegetation from the bottom of the lake onto the shores and leaving in its place, a hard sandy bottom. The reason given for this is, that while the water is high enough for any stiff breeze to kick up a good sea, it is not deep enough to keep the waters from disturbing the bottom and washing up the soft mud and the vegetation in it. The injunction restraining the water power company from drawing the lake down below a certain level, is a good thing for one or two people who own summer resorts, but it is certainly playing havoc with the vegetation in the lake that the ducks feed upon. In view of the poor shooting in the fall, and the numbers of ducks that visit the lake in the spring, there is quite a movement on foot to get the legislature to pass a law this winter, making a short open season in the spring, when all can get a few days good shooting.

The game wardens are planning to get a law passed, that will do away with small boats and even artificial blinds. To limit each hunter to less than fifty decoys and make them use up their decoys every night. Some of these things are very good in theory but are no real benefit in the end. Give the game wardens a chance and they will fix it so it will be almost impossible to kill a duck lawfully.

BELOIT'S LATEST SCHEME FOR HOTEL

Broker May Be Secured to Sell the Bonds for the Desired New Building.

Beloit people seem to be having a hard time in getting their new hotel started. The main trouble seems to be lack of capital. The people have invested so much money in bonuses for manufacturing plants that they have nothing left with which to take stock in a hotel.

The latest scheme is to get a bond broker to handle the bonds the company propose to issue. W. D. Connel, a broker, told the promoters of the enterprise, that in enough of the stock subscribed to pay for the $4,000; get the plans of the building and have photographs taken showing what they propose to do and he would sell the bonds so that the money would be available in thirty days.

The instructions to the directors to buy the Goodwin house property were recalled.

FACULTY EXPECTED TO TAKE ACTION

Leaders in Freshman, Sophomore Difficulty at Beloit College Were Called Up and Questioned.

Until the next faculty meeting, which will occur if no special session is called, on Friday afternoon, several members of the Sophomore class of Beloit college will be kept in uncomfortable suspense. At the last meeting of the faculty no action was taken regarding the Sophomore interference in the Freshman banquet which was held last week. Since the meeting a number of the leaders in the attack have been called up before the faculty committee and carefully questioned in connection with the fray.

KATHARINE WILLARD IS WELL RECEIVED

In "The Power Behind the Throne" She Is Surrounded by a Capable Company.

That Katharine Willard is a popular star in Janesville was demonstrated last night by the large audience which filled the Grand to welcome her in "The Power Behind the Throne." It is not often that a play is presented which gives the same opportunity for gorgeous scenic investiture, and picturesque costumes as does this romantic drama of Theodore Kremer's and in the production by Miss Willard's company no detail is allowed to slip by unnoticed. At the same time the company has been carefully selected, and contains several members of far more than average ability.

As Arla, Miss Willard was of course easily the favorite. Her limelight impersonation of a part, which could easily be carried beyond the bounds of moderation made all others seem but accessories to her art. Even Wright Lorimer, who played the Baron von Hohenlohe, the unknowing victim of the intrigue of the Duchess von Waldheim, with consummate skill, seemed to attract hardly more personal attention than the ride chess board on which Arla so gracefully defeated her noble lover.

Miss Willard has surrounded herself this year by a number of surprisingly capable people. Perhaps none of them stood out more prominently as an individual than Camille Porter, an attractive comedienne who plays Delphine, the maid of the Duchess. As an excellent bit of humor, mingled with something more sound, the audience received her lines heartily. She has an opportunity to display a pleasing broken French accent, which she does with rare good judgment.

Richard Nesmith is the cringing, scheming secretary to perfection, a worthy helpmeet to the heartless, domineering Duchess. As the latter Maud Durand is well fitted to the part, as merciless, purposeful, thoroughly involved in plot and cabal, as could be asked—the "Power Behind the Throne."

In the part of the Count von Oberfels, Francis Salisbury, was debonair and polished, smooth in the modulation of his voice and control of every lineament of his countenance. The other members of the cast drew comment only as they displayed signal lack of ability and delayed the progress of the action. In general they were adequate.

HAD DIFFICULTIES WITH ITS LEADERS

Beloit City Band and Fairbanks-Morse Band Cannot Keep Their Leaders Long.

A large book would be required to tell the ups and downs of the Beloit city bands. The last year has proved especially fertile in historical material. It was only a little over a year ago that the Fairbanks-Morse band was organized, and soon after an efficient leader was secured. Under his direction the band rapidly improved, and was just beginning to secure a good number of engagements when the leader suddenly disappeared, neglecting to leave his future address.

It was soon discovered that at the time of his disappearance he had in his possession practically all of the funds of the organization, besides having numberless unpaid bills around the city. Just as he was about to leave he had called at his tailor's to get a new forty-dollar suit of clothes, promising to pay on the morrow.

Another leader was soon secured, Fred Collins, by name, and he has done much to improve the quality of the band, and induce good players to locate in the city.

When the time of the Beloit Interstate fair drew near, the City band, the other of the Line City's two musical organizations, was engaged to play during that week. As soon as the secretary of the fair had paid over the contract amount to the leader of the City band, that gentleman also decided to travel, and the band was out a large part of the pay due for their services.

For some time after that the bands played together a large part of the time, under the name of the Musicians' union. Finally, a few weeks ago, Director Collins resigned his position. A successor was engaged, but for some reason failed to appear, and now the word is given that Mr. Collins has decided to reconsider his resignation, and will remain in his old position.

F. Cleary, one of Beloit's legal lights, attended the opening of the circuit court yesterday.

He is a brother of Prince David, who was a delegate to the national democratic convention of 1900, and who cast a vote maintaining allover in the democratic platform. The generally accepted name of Prince Cupid came not to him at his baptism, but by general consent. He has been elected as a republican, and his personal sympathies are strongly royalist.

JURY ACQUITTED JOHN ARKINSON

Found Him Not Guilty of Larceny, But Thought He Should Be Reprimanded.

A jury in the municipal court yesterday afternoon found that John Arkinson did not steal Frank McKewan's coat from a room in the Hayes block. They believed Arkinson's story, that he bought the coat of a man he did not know and had never seen before for fifty cents. They returned a verdict that while they did not believe him guilty they thought that he should be reprimanded by the judge. This was a new one on Judge Field, but as he had no right to do any reprimanding he let Arkinson go.

HARRY DANIEL'S MINOR OBSERVATIONS

Copyright, 1902, by Harry Daniel

A WELCOME TO THE COMING WINTER.

It is with quite a large amount of genuine heart-felt joy that we hail the approach of another winter. Three or four weeks ago if we had made an attempt to do any hailing in this respect it would have been necessary for us to accompany each hail with an affidavit of good faith, but the possibilities of a fuel famine have disappeared, and any person desiring to extend a cordial greeting to the coming winter may now do so without fear of injuring his moral character and general good standing in the community.

We believe that the majority of people enjoy winter, with all its delightful festivities, more than any other season of the year.

In the city people go to the theaters and watch the hand of death chop down character after character with appropriate music, while the people who live in the country get up a 20-round debating match on the subject, "Was Mr. Napoleon Bonaparte a Greater Man Than Mr. George Washington?" or some other burning issue.

Speaking of the drama brings us to one great tendency of the modern stage which will no doubt be more marked during the coming winter than ever before. We refer to the dramatization habit. In the good old days a play was simply a play and nothing more, but to-day they are all dramatizations.

In those days the play always opened up under favorable circumstances with everybody happy and apparently out of debt. In a short time, however, the heavy villain with a hand-painted frown and a seditious mustache would make his appearance and the audience would settle back in its seat and prepare to witness 50 or 75 cents' worth of trouble before time to go home. The villain would then open the exercises by killing somebody in an easy, graceful manner, after which he would throw a large quantity of suspicion upon the hero with such dramatic eyes who would be immediately placed under arrest by a stage hand with an artificial growth of red side-whiskers and a policeman's helmet that had outgrown him and settled down over the tops of his ears.

During the next act the villain would appear neatly attired in a new suit of clothes and walking stick to match. Then he would make love to the fair, young heroine, who would spurn him first on one side of the stage and then on the other. Every time he was spurned the villain would hit himself on the side of the foot with his cane and say "curse it" in a loud, ringing whisper which would give general satisfaction.

During the next act the heroine would drop in at the fall where the hero was spending the act and the two would look on the dark side of life for a few moments in a husky tone of voice, and to the accompaniment of a nervous and irresolute orchestral number, which sounded like an epidemic of shaking palsy had broken out among the musicians. During this act the audience would amuse itself by weeping in a soft, subdued accent.

Three years would then hurry noiselessly by, and the next act would show the heroine making the discovery that she was a wealthy heiress, instead of the real daughter of the poverty-stricken blacksmith who pumped his bellows in an emotional manner and talked to himself at some length several times during the course of the evening. At almost the same instant one of the members of the cast would present the villain with a fatal blow behind the left ear, after which the latter would kick around on the floor in an entertaining death struggle, exonerate the hero with a few appropriate gestures, and then pass quietly out of the trend of the story amid immense applause. In the meantime someone would hurry away to find the hero, who would arrive barely in time to clasp the heroine in his muscular arms and arrest the attention of the audience as it was beginning to move out the door.

While the audience was kept in more or less suspense during most of the play, it was generally understood throughout the house that all trouble would be straightened out and all bills paid before the evening was over. When the audience was scattering tears in every direction in Act III. it did so with the complete knowledge that in the next act the hero would suddenly remember what he had done with his bill, and the story would wind up in a free-for-all dance and general good time.

But, with the onward march of the dramatization, plays have gone out of style, and when the farces opens up in the first act now the audience doesn't have the faintest idea whether the hero will wind up in the penitentiary or the United States senate, and it is unable to detect until the very last whether the pretty heroine with the light and expensive hair is to become the victim of matrimony or emotional insanity.

You can never count on the dramatization. It may get you to weeping till your nose is red and you are out of breath, and then turn you loose in that condition to go forth and battle with life a crushed and broken-hearted man, or it may send you away under the impression that George Washington crossed the Delaware river in a naphtha launch called the "Rutherford B. Hayes" with Sousa's band playing the "Liberty Bell" march all the way over and the mayor of Trenton waiting at the boat landing in an open carriage.

You may read the latest novel from your favorite author. It has an average population of 2,500 characters, all of whom are allowed to hang around until the very last page; but when you go to the theater you are pained to note that the dramatist has whittled down the characters to nine in order to save expenses. You may go to the theater expecting to deliver first one shriek of laughter and then another, and find that you are witnessing the dramatization of an editorial you read in a morning newspaper on the theme, "Segregation as a Preventive of Divorce."

Some pleasing dramatizations will be brought out this winter. The Congressional Record will be dramatized and put on the road for the relief of persons who have become the victims of insomnia. The fall crop bulletins and the coal strike commissioners' report will also be put on the stage the moment they are published, and about Christmas a dramatization will be made of the extemporaneous remarks delivered by President Roosevelt to the Massachusetts motorman.

With the coming of winter, the season of indoor games will also open in real earnest, and ping-pong, cherades, Copenhagen, bridge whist and two-handed checkers will again be all the rage.

Ping-pong will, as usual be found at the head of the list, for it is as good a game as was ever made, to while away the carpets and bric-a-brac and anything else of value that may happen to be in the room while the fury and excitement of the game is on.

Take the average man while he is in the mad pursuit of a flying, darting ping-pong ball, and there is no obstacle from a coal scuttle to a baby grand piano that can break his progress. We have seen ping-pong after ping-pong, while under the spell of the chase, sweep from one end of a room to the other, climb the night-blooming clematis, yank the bird cage out by the roots, wade around through the bottoms of the rocking chairs and grind the what-not down to a worthless and unrecognizable pulp, who, in their lucid moments, would be perfectly safe around any home.

Persons who may have furniture about the house that has become more or less of a nuisance, and of which they yearn to be relieved, can have their wishes gratified by staking out a ping-pong set in their home and then inviting some gentleman who is comparatively new to the game and who is gifted with a pair of large, robust feet and a disposition that can at times be worked up to a high and violent state of excitement.

And, so, with all these delightful festivities in store, winter, we are pleased to note, is at hand; winter, that magic time when the fire-light gleams cheerily upon the hearthstone and the appetite becomes of some service to its proprietor; winter, that most charmed season of all the year, when the cheek is aglow with the bloom of health, and the oyster is fat, and when every other form of amusement from grand opera to the buck-wheat puncheon seeks to woo us away from every thought of displeasure and gloom.

FEDERATION PROBE FOR MR. GOMPERS TO HAVE LIGHT ON OLD FIGHT

Member of Amalgamated Steel and Iron Workers' Union Brings the Matter Up and Demands an Investigation to Settle the Affair.

New Orleans, La., Nov. 18.—A resolution to order an investigation of charges of President Shaffer of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers against President Gompers created a dramatic scene in the American Federation of Labor. J. P. Sheridan, a delegate of the Amalgamated Association, asked unanimous consent to introduce a resolution reviving the subject. A delegate objected, but President Gompers, who had temporarily left the chair, asked that the objection be withdrawn, so that the matter could be considered and investigated promptly. By this time nearly every delegate in the hall was on his feet demanding to be heard. Objection to its introduction was withdrawn, and the resolution was read in full as follows:

Committee to Investigate.

"Whereas, President T. J. Shaffer of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, at the last convention held in Wheeling, W. Va., made charges against President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, which impeach his fidelity to the principles of unionism, therefore, be it:

"Resolved, That this convention appoint a committee to investigate said charges and report the findings to the convention in order that the truth may be known."

It was agreed between Messrs. Gompers and Shaffer that each appoint two members of the committee, the four to select a fifth. Mr. Gompers named John A. Moffit of the haters and Edgar A. Agraard of the glass bottle blowers, and Mr. Shaffer named W. H. Haskins of the miners and G. W. Slayton of the carpenters. When the fifth member is selected the investigation will begin.

After the convention had adjourned Mr. Shaffer disclaimed all connection with bringing up the matter. He said that the introducer of the measure was not friendly to him.

Shaffer's Charges.

Charges were first made by Mr. Shaffer against President Gompers fourteen months ago in a circular letter sent to the subordinates of the Amalgamated association. In this letter Mr. Gompers, President Mitchell of the Mine Workers and Grand Master Frank Sargent of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen were charged with disloyalty to the steel workers in the events leading up to the settlement of their strike. It continued:

"We were in a fairly good condition to win without help, but looked for aid from other labor bodies, and we especially relied upon the American Federation of Labor. They did not give us a cent. Perceiving that the lack of money, loss of public approval, desertion by hundreds of our own people and the aid of other organizations, would render a decisive victory impossible, we endeavored to save what we could."

Sought Sympathetic Strike.

Mr. Shaffer charged that he arranged a meeting in New York between President Gompers and J. Pierpont Morgan; that Mr. Morgan gave him his vacation to keep the engagement, but that Mr. Gompers did not appear. Later, Mr. Shaffer claims, he was invited by Mr. Mitchell and representatives of the National Civic Federation to a meeting, at which the pledge was made that if the steel workers accepted a certain proposition and the steel trust refused it, the miners, trainmen and other organizations were to be called out on a sympathetic strike. The strikers accepted the proposition, the steel trust refused it, but, according to Shaffer, no sympathetic strike was called.

Denial by Gompers.

In reply to the charges Mr. Gompers said that neither Mr. Shaffer nor any other representative of the steel workers' organization made a request to the federation for financial assistance. Of the charge that Mr. Shaffer arranged for a meeting between Mr. Morgan and Mr. Gompers which the latter did not attend, he says: "Mr. Shaffer says that which is absolutely untrue, and he knows it."

Mr. Gompers also said there never was the remotest mention of Mitchell or Sargent calling out the miners and the trainmen.

At the annual meeting of the steel workers in Wheeling last May, President Shaffer made the charges a part of his report, but the convention ignored the charges.

STUDENTS ENGAGE IN A DUEL

Trouble at a Medical College Provoked by Remark About Women.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Nov. 18.—Andrew J. Harness of Ohio and W. H. Downey of Alabama, students in U. S. Grant Medical college, engaged in a pistol duel in front of the medical college. Each fired six shots. Harness is supposed to have been shot in the abdomen. It is claimed the duel arose over remarks Harness had made about Southern women.

German Gunners Do Well.

The gunners of the German warship Kaiser Friedrich III. have made a new record for accuracy of fire. With a fifteen centimeter gun they fired eight shots a minute at a moving target, all of which were hits.

Boy Commits Suicide.

Philadelphia, Nov. 18.—After hearing his mother play the intermezzo from "Cavalleria Rusticana" on the piano at his own request, 19-year-old Alexander Schimpf put a bullet through his brain.

Mollioux Goes to Work.

New York, Nov. 18.—Roland B. Mollioux has gone to work in his father's color works. He says he has no idea of going on the stage or becoming a dramatist and that such talk is distasteful.

Fire Brick Plant Burns.

Massillon, O., Nov. 18.—The plant of the Massillon Stone and Fire Brick company was destroyed by fire. The loss is about $50,000. One hundred men are thrown out of employment.

Lawyers Favor Embree.

Vincennes, Ind., Nov. 18.—The Knox County Bar association has strongly resolved in favor of Lucius C. Embree of Princeton to succeed John H. Baker of Indianapolis as federal judge.

Paper Mills Burn.

Niles, Mich., Nov. 18.—Two of the Niles Board and Paper company's mills were destroyed by fire. The loss is estimated at $75,000. The fire throws 150 men out of employment.

Warship's Fast Trip.

Honolulu, Nov. 18.—Naval men are discussing the remarkable performance of the cruiser New York on her recent run from Yokohama to this port, which she made in ten days and twenty hours.

Move Columbus' Ashes.

Seville, Nov. 18.—The ceremony of depositing the ashes of Christopher Columbus in a special mausoleum was carried out in the cathedral with befitting solemnity.

FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION

"I am so thankful for what Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has done for me," writes Mrs. John T. Smith, of Slocan, B. C., Box 50. "It cured me of a disease which was taking away all my strength, helped me through the long months before baby came and I have a big strong baby girl, the most healthy and happy of all my three."

MAKES THE DIFFERENCE.

Would you like to feel Young Again?

Many old people are lame, nearly all are weak.

Worst of all, is that feeling of languor, of inability to act, of weariness at trifling exertion.

Nothing will make the old young again, but Vinol will prevent 99 out of 100 old people from feeling so old.

There is no humbug about it. We found out about Vinol, and tried it every way before we decided to put it on the market and guarantee it. Now we believe that almost any tired, discouraged old person who will take a bottle of Vinol and use it as directed will feel better right away.

It will increase their strength, relieve their lameness and brighten their spirits. It does this by nourishing. Don't blame the old folks for being blue and cross. Take home a bottle of Vinol.

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST

Generally fair tonight and Wednesday.

DIGNITY OF MANHOOD

It is gratifying in this rapid age, when so much energy is employed in acquiring fame and fortune to note that from the ranks of the people, a man is just now commanding the attention of the nation, whose name was unknown a few short months ago.

Whatever may be the thought concerning John Mitchell, president of the Mine Workers' union, and however much sentiment may disagree with him, the fact is admitted that he is a great leader, and one of the most unique characters of his day.

His examination before the strike commission, has placed him before the people in a new light. For two days he occupied the witness box, and the best legal talent that money could employ, exhausted every effort to break down his evidence, and confuse him by rigid cross-examination, but he was found to be the same cool, deliberate, determined man, that he has been from the commencement of his career.

A man without money or education, yet possessing a firm conviction that he is right, and that the cause he represents is just, he has shown himself to be the equal of both capital and culture in the defense of what he honestly believes to be a principal vital, the welfare of labor.

His knowledge was acquired in the great school of experience, and what he knows of conditions is not a matter of hearsay nor theory.

The cause of the miner and the miner's children, is his cause and that he is honest in his efforts to better their condition, even men who disagree with him, will not deny.

Had he been ambitious for money, he might have retired from the contest long ago with a fortune, but he has sacrificed all because of his rugged honesty.

John Mitchell is an object-lesson for the young men of America. He is a type of self-made manhood, wrought out under adverse circumstances, yet as true to his convictions of what he believes to be right as it is possible for a man to be. He is the idol of the people whose cause he represents, and grievances of every description are submitted to him for adjustment. He is a monarch at his humble lodgings today, and dines with the president tomorrow, but he is the same plain manly John Mitchell under all surroundings.

Success does not elate him, nor defeat discourage him. He possesses elements of character that are not rare, but they are so thoroughly developed that the man commands today, the attention and respect of all classes of people. His name will go into history as one of the strong men of his generation, because of the intense and unselfish manliness of his character.

A VOICE FROM THE TOP SHELF

The burden of Adlai Stevenson's recent speech in New York was that there is no prosperity. Of course, there isn't—from Adlai's point of view. A man who has been slumbering for eight years—ever since he was put to sleep in the vice-presidency folding bed, except for a brief season of semi-consciousness in 1900—cannot be expected to know what the world is doing in the meantime.

When Adlai closed his eyes, his fading gaze rested on the hard times of Clevelandism; the buzzing of industrial machinery was hushed, and the hum of commerce had ceased, and the only noise that smote the air was the tramp, tramp, tramp of workmen traversing the country hunting for employment and finding it not. Naturally his first impression on arousing himself is that he is still in the midst of such woeful scenes and conditions.

Let Adlai shake himself and give his leg a few hard pinches. When he emerges from the stupor, opens his eyes widely and looks about him he will see his blunder. If he doesn't, it will be because he has grown near-sighted, or cross-eyed or blind. The great trouble with politicians who have been tucked away on the shelf for some time, when they undertake to enlighten the public on affairs of moment, is that they merely relate the dreams and nightmares they had while reposing in dry storage. Before he appears on the stump again Adlai should be well aired, dusted and sprayed.—Kansas City "Journal."

THE SPEAKERSHIP

Congressman Babcock is wise in declining to be a candidate for speaker in the next house of congress. With the combination against him and Cannon so much in the lead, his chances for success were not flattering, and he could not afford to enter the race to be defeated, much as his own state desired to see him honored.

Mr. Babcock is not as strong before the people of his party as he was before he made his maiden effort on tariff reform. The Milwaukee Journal, and a few other papers without a party, attempt to make it appear that Mr. Babcock represents the republican sentiment of the middle west. This is not true.

The republican believers in protection of the McKinley and Roosevelt brand. There is no free trade here, mixed up with this belief and there will be no theories of this class successfully advanced at the next session of congress. There may be something done for Cuba, and there should be, and reciprocity with other nations where it will benefit America may command attention, but that is a long way from free trade.

The people have just said that they are with the president on these propositions and the president is not a free trader. His policy is generally understood, and the forthcoming message will dispel any doubts that may exist.

The speaker of the next house should be in hearty accord with him. There was some doubt expressed concerning Mr. Babcock along these lines.

UNUSUAL CONDITIONS

Conditions are now prevailing in Wall street that are more or less of a puzzle to the oldest financiers. The stock market, last week was unusually weak and many leading railway stocks fell off from 20 to 30 points. Industrials also shared in the decline, and a conservative feeling continues to prevail among the banks of the city.

Money for speculative purposes is not to be had at any price, and yet there is nothing to indicate a panic. The splendid resources of the west is said to be the cause of stability, at a time when so many unfavorable conditions exist.

The western states enjoyed a most abundant harvest, and the crop is already moving at prices much beyond the average. This contributes to the material wealth of the country and by the first of the year will supply an abundance of ready money.

Henry Clews in sizing up the situation says:

"Outside of the money market the situation is fairly satisfactory. There is little occasion for concern beyond the fact that high prices are beginning to check new enterprise, and declining profits are certainly becoming numerous. There is no doubt but impose a serious strain upon our all the crest of prosperity's wave has been passed and a partial reaction is on; although the volume of business seems large when measured in dollars. When quantities are used for comparisons the results are not so gratifying. It is most unfortunate that the future should be clouded by the threatened prospect of labor troubles. Should these become more aggravated they might easily impinge a serious strain upon our already overloaded financial machinery. Labor has already received many concessions in shorter hours and higher wages during the last few years; and a much larger share of corporate earnings has gone to labor in making improvements than to stockholders in the form of increased dividends. The disastrous effects of the late coal strike have not yet been fully felt. The consequences of high-priced fuel will shortly be seen in diminished profits to the producer and high prices to the consumer, whose sentiments rather than his judgment led him to sympathize with the strikers. Some very valuable lessons in economics are being learned just now in the costly school of experience."

ANTHRACITE COAL

The United States Geological Survey has recently published some interesting statistics concerning the development of the anthracite coal industry.

In 1920 the total output was $65 tons and in 1901 it had reached the grand total of $3,000,000. Of this amount the Wyoming district produces 50 per cent, the Schuylkill, 33 per cent, and the Lehigh region the balance.

This wonderful development of nature's supply of fuel is in keeping with the progress of the nation in many other departments of industrial growth.

The supply appears to be unlimited and there is no reason to suppose that it will be exhausted. If the strike commission succeeds in adjusting the labor question on a permanent basis, the country should be furnished coal for time to come at reasonable prices.

The Moravian Falls Yellow Jacket says: "The man who tries to ride into office these times by yelling 'calamity' ought to be dipped into a tank of tar, then loaded into a sewer pipe and shot through a feather bed as reward for such cussedness." The paper is about right and yet the country is full of calamity howlers.

If any one thinks that Congressman Babcock is asleep, just watch him smoke when congress convenes. He comes as near being a shrewd politician as the country produces. When he turns the Wisconsin delegation over to Cannon, that gentleman will have occasion to remember Mr. Babcock.

Carrie Nation is booked for a lecture in Milwaukee. Carrie has gained cheap notoriety and a divorce with but little to show for it in the way of shekels. Milwaukee should give her a good house.

The man who introduced German carp into American waters, should be obliged to live on a carp diet for the rest of his natural life.

The reported illness of J. Pierpont Morgan had a depressing influence on stocks, but May corn continues to climb up towards the 80 cent mark.

Mr. Babcock is wise in withdrawing from the race for speakership. He is too good a politician to invite defeat. Mr. Cannon of Illinois will be the next speaker and he is abundantly able to fill the chair with satisfaction to the party.

It is about time for John Strange of Ohio, to issue another manifesto for A. R. Hall for the United States senate.

Assemblyman Lenrott has the inside track for speaker of the next house. He is the governor's man and will win on that account.

PRESS COMMENT

Boston Herald: It really seems to be incumbent on the bachelor governor-elect of Kansas to "make-good."

Washington Star: When a Mormon statesman comes to congress he is lucky if he succeeds in being looked on as a man with a past rather than as a man with a polygamous present.

Chicago Record-Herald: General Harrison's name appears as "Den" Harrison on the new $5 bill. Still even at that it isn't likely that a very large percentage of the population will get too familiar with it.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: As soon as the proposed civil government is established in the Canadian Northwest territory, we shall protest against so many of those blizzards being allowed to get away and cross the line.

Chicago Record-Herald: A Jersey City preacher is going to organize a boxing class to be composed of members of his flock and teach it himself. If this doesn't have the desired effect he may hire a regular advertising manager.

Philadelphia Inquirer: Kentucky reports a fine prospect for winter corn and rye, and as the Lancaster county tobacco crop was also fine, there'll be no need to worry about the smoke and drink, except the price, of course.

Des Moines Register: The ship subsidy bill is still pending in congress, with the committee on merchant marine and fisheries. If this committee should stow it away with the deep sea fish it would find a fitting resting place.

Kansas City Journal: The predicted cold wave seems to have been sidetracked, but it may come along yet. Sometimes cold waves put in an appearance when least expected—like the one that overtook the democratic party last week.

Chicago Record-Herald: A New York dealer sadly complains that the newspapers are to blame for the reduction in the prices of coal. It is under that there are people in this country who think that the press ought to be muzzled.

Denver Republican: The discovery of a marriage syndicate in this country will probably not stop any international alliances. Hairdressers with European ambitions would as soon secure their titles through a syndicate as any other way.

Indianapolis News: Seventy automobiles made a run from London to Oxford, seventy miles, in a rainstorm, and the dispatch announcing the event said it was "merely for pleasure." When an Englishman decides that anything is fun, it is hard to convince him that it isn't.

Kansas City Journal: President Roosevelt is quoted as saying that the people have simply given the republican party an opportunity to make good between now and 1904. The statement is not quite accurate. The people have given the republican party an opportunity to continue to make good from now until 1905.

St. Louis Post-Dispatch: The desertion of 4,000 men from the army during the fiscal year—enough to fill five regiments—may not be connected with the abolition of the canteen, but General Corbin thinks it is. The military thirst is a fearful and wonderful thing.

Indianapolis Sentinel: If John Jacob Astor's turbine wheel patents engineers think they will, his dedication of them to the public will have been a magnanimous act. Physicians and surgeons have sometimes devoted valuable discoveries and inventions to the public welfare, but it has seldom been done outside of that profession.

Miss Anna Held's Farm: Miss Anna Held this spring bought a farm on the outskirts of the small town of Belgrade, Me., and the writer, while there some weeks ago, was rather amused at the wording of a notice which was posted up at the Central House in that place. It read thus:

NOTICE.
Miss Anna Held has purchased the farm of Mr. Pray just north of the village, and guests are invited to visit the place at any time, where the hired man, if requested, will show them her calves.—New York Sun.

The Boy and the Preacher: Congressman Littlefield, of Maine, tells this story about a call he once made on a friend in that state. "The preacher was calling at the same time. In the midst of our conversation the small boy of the family, named Reginald, came running in. His clothes were torn and one of his eyes was blackened. 'Reginald,' said the preacher, 'you've been fighting again. Your clothes are torn and you have a black eye. Fighting is very, very wicked. Come here and let me pray for you.' 'Aw, g'wan,' said Reginald; 'go home and pray for your own kid. He's got two black eyes.'"

A Carload of Foresters for Texas: Washington, D. C., Nov. 14, 1902.—A special car, engaged by the Bureau of Forestry, carried a party of foresters and student assistants November 10 from Washington, D. C., to Kirbyville, Tex., to make a working plan for the management of a million and a quarter acres of Longleaf pine lands owned by the Kirby Lumber company. The party went to St. Louis and thence to Kirbyville, where the thirty-six men in the party were divided into four camps. One permanent camp was established at Kirbyville; the three other camps will move from place to place, wherever the work takes them. Each camp is in charge of an expert forester. The entire work is directed by Thomas H. Sherrard, an expert on southern pines. Dr. A. D. Hopkins, of the Division of Entomology, will make, in cooperation with the Bureau of Forestry, a special study of insects on the Kirby company's timber lands.

The present undertaking is begun in response to the request of the Kirby Lumber company that its timber lands be put under such management that they will yield a steady supply for its lumber mills. The working plan will be the most extensive and elaborate ever made in this country by a lumber company. The work will occupy about forty men for six months. All field expenses of the party will be borne by the Kirby Lumber company.

RUMMAGE SALES ARE OBJECTIONABLE

Next Legislature Will Be Asked to Pass a Law Restricting Them.

Milwaukee churches and charitable societies, who have been holding rummage sales are much disturbed over the action of the Federated Trades council and the city health department in joining forces in a crusade upon them.

The crusade has taken such shape that a bill is being made ready for the coming session of the legislature which will require that all second hand goods sold at rummage sales in second hand stores or auctions in cities of the first, second and third class shall be subjected to fumigation.

Against Rummage Sales: Dr. F. M. Schulz of the Milwaukee health department admits that this bill is directed chiefly at rummage sales and that the second hand stores are good enough as they are at present for all sanitary purposes. He takes this step as a result of the recent sales held in the Cream City where many objectionable articles were sold to the poor people who attended them that should have been burned.

Act Is Endorsed: The State Board of Health also endorses the action and says that it is a menace to the health of the city in which such sales are held. From the present indications the bill will be carried at the next legislature.

Jackson Inspects Roads: H. H. Jackson, engineer for the Beloit, Delavan Lake, and Janesville Interurban road, was in the city today. Mr. Jackson stated that he could see no reason why the road should not be in operation between Beloit and Janesville next week. The road was practically completed and needed only a few finishing touches to put in running order. There is still a small section of rail to be laid where the road passes under the Northwestern near the Choate-Hollister factory, which it will take but a short time to complete.

NEWS OF A PERSONAL NATURE

Frank Murphy of Beloit called on his numerous friends in this city today. James Haggart of Shopiere is spending a few days in this city combining business and pleasure.

T. J. Zeigler of Chicago is in the city looking after his business interests here.

German Ship Owners' Union. Hamburg, Nov. 18.—A number of German ship brokers and owners propose to establish a union of shipping interests in opposition to the Hamburg-American line and also start a newspaper to represent their interests.

Declines American Post. Berne, Nov. 18.—Dr. C. D. Bourcart, Swiss minister at London, persisting in his refusal to go to Washington, the bundesrath offered the appointment to Emilie Frey, former president of the confederation, but he declined.

Accept Racing Conditions. Belfast, Nov. 18.—The Royal Ulster Yacht club, through which Sir Thomas Lipton issued his challenge for the America cup, officially has accepted the conditions imposed by the New York Yacht club for the race.

Powder Explosion Kills Two. Greensburg, Pa., Nov. 18.—The powder mill of Love & Sunshine, located at Newark station, blew up, killing Joseph France and William Norris. This is the fifth time the mill has blown up within three years.

Mob Lynchers Negro. Elizabethtown, Ky., Nov. 18.—Harlem Buckles was taken from the jail and hanged to a limb. Buckles is the negro who killed Deputy Marshal Bob Reid. The jury fixed the punishment at life in the penitentiary.

Jealous of Pet Dog. St. Joseph, Mo., Nov. 18.—Because he was jealous of her pet dog, Jesse Talbert beat his wife into insensibility with a billiard cue. He attempted to kill the dog and when she interfered he assaulted her.

Prosperity in Kentucky. The horse population in Kentucky has now reached 50,000, and the corn crop for this year will exceed $30,000,000 in value. The average farm is ninety-three acres, and 2.2 per cent of the farmers have six or more acres colored.

CITY TAKES PART IN TOWER MATTER

WILL NOT ALLOW THE STREETS
TO BE BLOCKED.

QUANDARY AS TO POSITION

Both Roads Want the Tower in Certain Places, But the City Says, No.

The city took a hand in the tower moving controversy at Academy street this morning. Street Commissioner Fredericks was on the grounds and served notice on the North-Western force that if they left the tower in the limits of West Bluff street he would have the whole force arrested and Chief Hogan and Officer Fanning were there to execute his orders.

North-Western Side
The North-Western road are determined that the tower should not stay just where it was placed just west of Academy street on the St. Paul property. They give as one reason for wanting it put back where it was, that the tower man could not see down or up Academy street for any distance.

The matter was taken up yesterday by the road officials in authority and as the North-Western have a prior claim on the position of the tower the St. Paul road had to consent to having it moved from where it had been placed but onto their property. This morning a North-Western official from the bridge department arrived in the city and made ready to move the tower. It was anchored with two large cables to telegraph poles belonging to the St. Paul company. The St. Paul men refused to allow the North-Western men to remove them without orders from headquarters, and so matters rested until the arrival of the Milwaukee train.

Eldredge Here
Superintendent P. C. Eldredge arrived on this train. He told the North-Western men that they could move the tower but that the city would not stand for it being in the street and the present location was the only one they had for it on their property.

Trouble Begins
The North-Western men evidently thought that they could do as they wished as far as the city was concerned and started moving the tower. They evidently over estimated their "pull" with the city as Street Commissioner Fredericks arrived on the scene and notified them that the city would not allow the tower to be placed in the streets and that he would order the arrest of the entire crew if it was done.

This is in keeping with the policy lately adopted by the council that they will allow no more encroachment on the streets by the railroad companies and that they are going to have the crossings kept open.

Other Examples
It is only a short time ago that the St. Paul company had to move a track that encroached on Race street, and last Friday they had to remove the curbing set for their brick platforms at the very spot the North-Western now proposes to locate the tower. If the tower is set far enough east of Academy street to be clear of West Bluff street it will be impossible to see down Academy street to the south on account of the Sylvester warehouse.

Want Street Open
A number of First ward residents watched the work this morning and were quite outspoken against the North-Western. They want West Bluff street kept open and the tracks planked so that they can drive across the street without trouble and be blocked by freight trains as they are now most of the time.

The Academy street tower was moved across the street and left on the blocks until the location could be settled by the officials of the road.

TOURNAMENT WILL BEGIN IN A WEEK

Y. M. C. A. Alleys Will Probably Be in Use by That Time—Twenty-Two Entries.

Twenty-two entries have been made for the Y. M. C. A. bowling tournament which will begin inside of a week. The last of the alleys is now being shellacked and polished, and the tournament will begin as soon as the alleys are ready for use. The alleys are now being crowded to their capacity all of the time, and a rule has been made which will prevent anyone from playing more than three successive games when someone is in waiting to use the alleys.

IN HONOR OF HER GUEST'S BIRTHDAY

Miss Mabel Woodman Entertained For Miss Lucy Hanson, of Milton, Last Evening.

Miss Mabel Woodman was the hostess at a pleasant company given at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Diantha Roof, 160 Lincoln street, last evening. Eight of her young lady friends were her guests, the party being given in honor of Miss Lucy Hanson, of Milton, who celebrated the anniversary of her birthday.

Miss Hanson formerly resided in this city and was a member of the circle of friends who enjoyed last evening together with games and amusements of various kinds. During the evening the hostess served delicious refreshments. Those who shared in the pleasure of last evening's gathering were Mrs. G. F. Clark and Misses Pearl Hall, Lucy Hanson, Elsie Cummings, Myrtle Hayner, Mabel Woodman, Helen McChesney, Elva Crawford and Alice Sanner.

John Long and his force of masons and workmen left this morning for Belvidere, where they will do some work for the Northwestern.

The midnight hour had passed and another day had been born here for the guests said their good-byes, wishing Miss Delaney a pleasant and safe journey.

LOOK OUT FOR THE CARS
B. of R. T. Will Have Their Annual Dance November 26.

On Wednesday evening of next week the annual dancing party of the B. of R. T. will be given at Assembly hall and already the boys are getting "orders" from the committee to see that all tracks are cleared for that evening so that there will be no chance for anything but a good time for those who attend. All holding invitations to former parties are cordially invited to attend. Smith's orchestra has been sidetracked for the date and it will be clear sailing for all.

Judge Dick of Beaver Dam, was in the city yesterday hearing cases in the circuit court in which a change of venue had been asked.

GAVE FIRST OF A SERIES OF TEAS

MRS. HULLIHEN AND MRS. DOTY ENTERTAIN ROYALLY.

MANY LADIES THEIR GUESTS

The Home Was Lavishly Decorated in Honor of the Brilliant Society Event.

In parlors which had been transformed into a veritable bower of beauty by an elaborate use of Alabama smilax and choice cut flowers, Mrs. Sarah A. Hullihen and Mrs. Edw. P. Doty last evening entertained about seventy of their lady friends at a charming five o'clock tea.

The party was given at the home of the hostesses, 2 Conrad street, in Forest Park and was the first of a series of four to be given by Mesdames Hullihen and Doty this week. It was a distinctive social success and was one of the most elegant gatherings of the kind ever held in the city. Little Misses Josephine and Margaret Doty and Lucille Hyde, looking very bewitching in their dainty white gowns, answered the door and received the guests very prettily.

Those Who Received
Cordial greeting also awaited the guests from the hostesses, who were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Frederick R. Parsons, of Toledo, O., and Mrs. P. J. Zeidler of Chicago. Both of these ladies are former residents of this city and their many friends among the guests were delighted at the opportunity of meeting them.

Artistic Decorations
Never has a Janesville home been more beautifully decorated in honor of a ladies' company. The rich green foliage of the southern smilax was massed over doorways and windows and festooned around the chandeliers while a wealth of choice chrysanthemums, roses and carnations added great dashes of color to the effective decorative setting. Yellow and white was the color scheme followed largely in the parlors, while the dining room was in pink.

An Excellent Spread
As soon as the guests had arrived the delicious three course supper, which appeared eloquently though silently of the culinary skill of the hostesses, was prettily served. The hostesses being assisted by Mesdames H. G. Carter, J. A. Sutherland, J. H. Hall, W. H. Greenman, C. S. Putnam, Mary Doty, Stanley D. Smith and W. H. Judd.

The Prize Winners
When ample justice had been done the final course, the tables were cleared and the ladies were soon deep in the enjoyment of the favorite social game, six handed euchre, to which the balance of the evening was pleasantly devoted. Mrs. Charles B. Boatwick proved the most proficient player and won the handsome plate offered for the highest score. The consolation prize, a silver teaspoon, went to Miss Helen Nash.

A brief season of informal sociability followed, preceding the goodnight which were said quite reluctantly, so thoroughly enjoyable had the occasion proved.

FRESHMAN CLASS HAVE NEW PINS

High School Members Have Purchased Nobby Class-Emblems in Gold and Black.

Members of the class of 1905 of the high school have received their class pins, which they will wear, provided they do not lose them before that time, until they graduate from the school. The emblems are of a neat design of gold and enamel, the black of the enamel and the gold of the body of the pin furnishing the class colors of orange and black. On a raised shield in the center of the pin, which is irregular in shape, are the class numbers, "1905," and surrounding the shield are the school initials in artistic lettering, "J. H. S."

ENGLISH CLASS BEGINS TONIGHT

Miss Paulson Will Teach Course in Young Men's Christian Association Night School.

This class is a part of the system of night classes which will be held this winter under the auspices of the association. Tuesday and Friday evenings at 7:30 will be the regular hours for the classes to meet.

BAD RUNAWAY

Team of Horses Takes Fright and Tears Down River Street

A team of horses belonging to Uri Lee, a farmer living near the Institute for the Blind, was left standing untended near the Blodgett Mills this afternoon at about two o'clock. They took fright at a switch engine on the tracks near by and starting off down River street were headed directly for the windows of the Hall, Sayles & Fifield store. Striking the brick pavement near the Northern Grain Co.'s office, their feet slipped and they dashed into a telegraph pole.

One of the horses rolled completely over, and the harness was broken in several places. The wagon, which was a light democrat, was more or less battered, although the damage was not great.

Five first class entertainments on the Y. M. C. A. course, including the Sallybury orchestra for $1.00. Course tickets on sale at the Y. M. C. A. building, only a few left. The Sallybury orchestra this evening. Don't miss this good musical treat. Single admission 35c.

FOOTBALL SEASON IS NEARLY OVER

Big Games Thanksgiving Will Decide Who Are the Leading Teams East and West.

With the wind-up of the football season for 1902, but eight days off, all of the teams that have contested on that day are doing the utmost to whip the delinquents into shape for the Thanksgiving games. While many of the teams are hopelessly in arrears as to standings they still have the forlorn hope of ending the season with a blaze of glory.

The Leaders
In the West Minnesota and Michigan are the two leaders. Both teams are strong and both teams have beaten Wisconsin. Michigan's score was 6 to 0 and Minnesota's 11 to 0. From the point of comparison Minnesota is best, but when it is considered that Michigan played Wisconsin two weeks earlier than Minnesota did and that Wisconsin was disheartened by its former defeat the comparison is not so great and Michigan still looks the choice.

The Thanksgiving game Michigan will have the advantage of playing on its own college field and should be the winner.

The Tail Enders
Of the big four of western football teams Wisconsin and Chicago are both about equal with the advantage slightly in favor of Wisconsin. Their game on Marshall Field on Thanksgiving day promises to be rare sport for the enthusiasts and from the present outlook unless the Badgers play in wretched form, they should win from the "Midway Dancers."

In The East
In the East Yale looks to be the choice of the "Big Four" with Pennsylvania far in arrears. The Yale-Harvard game is all that is left to play and Harvard seems to be very much discouraged over the present prospects. Yale's decisive victory over Princeton even though the score was small, gives the Sons of Eli much the advantage over their crimson opponents. Pennsylvania is far in the background and from a leader in the sport has dropped into a second rate with only its one game with Harvard each year to keep it up.

Big Receipts
All over the country the receipts for this years series of games are large. Last Saturday although it was the defeated team, Wisconsin carried back, $15,200 as its share of the gate receipts. In all this season the Badger management hope to clear up $10,000 as above all the heavy expenses of the trainers and coaches.

SELLECK CLEARED OF THE BLAME
North-Western Engineer Returns to Work On Monday Next.

Some one besides Engineer Al. Selleck must have been to blame for the accident at Oes Plains last Thursday night.

The railroad companies have investigated the matter and Mr. Selleck will go back on his run next week. Mr. Selleck claims that the signals were all right for him until after he had passed them and that the track was thrown against him after he had passed the signal when it was too late to stop. He also stated that the Wisconsin Central train had not started for the crossing after he was at the water tank taking water when he went into the ditch and did not cross the North-Western track until some minutes after he was in the ditch. The tower man was employed by the Wisconsin Central company.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY SHOCKS MADISON

UNIVERSITY STUDENT KILLED BY BOARDING HOUSE KEEPER

WHO ALSO SHOOT HIMSELF

Charles Olmquist, a Hard Working and Exemplary Young Man, Murdered by John Davenport.

(Special To The Gazette)
Madison, Wis., Nov. 18.—Charles Olmquist, the University student shot by a boarding house keeper named John D. Davenport, at his boarding house yesterday afternoon, died this morning at eight o'clock in the city hospital.

The tragedy, which occurred yesterday afternoon in Davenport's boarding house is one of the saddest stories that has come out of the capital city for some time. Olmquist, the student who died from the wounds was an Iowa boy who had come to the university to work his way to an education. He had entered the freshman engineering class and to help pay his expenses was steward of an eating club which was run by Davenport.

Over The Money
The trouble which ended in Olmquist's losing his life and the self destruction of the murderer, John Davenport, was caused by the difficulty in settling the board bills. Davenport, who is a hard drinking man insisted that Olmquist pay him the money and this Olmquist refused to do. Whipping out a revolver Davenport fired a shot at his victim, hitting him just above the heart. He then tried to kill his wife but she escaped into another room. Falling in his second attempt at murder, Davenport placed the revolver close to his head and blew out his brains, dying instantly.

A Sad Story
Charles Olmquist is a native of Sweden, his parents still living there. Some years ago he came to this country and in order to better his condition he entered the state university in the classical course, taking one year of that work. He then was compelled to remain out of school for two years to earn money enough to return and this fall came back and entered the engineering course. He was deeply religious and a member of the Y. M. C. A. and had joined the First Methodist church on Sunday last.

Davenport
Davenport was an ex-Confederate veteran and came to Madison with the advent of the Peck administration in 1892. He had a violent temper and was a hard drinking man. A year ago he attacked a man who tried to prevent his beating his wife and it was some hours before he could be captured by the police.

Marriage Licenses: Marriage licenses were issued Monday to Willie Wahl, of Dallas, 9rk, and Anna Periberg, of Janesville; Charles F. Christman and Julia Monahan both of Beloit; Adam Rithour and Emma Kessler, both of Mt. Carroll, Ill.

After $100 Bond: William Byrne is after his one hundred dollar bond forfeited by him in the case of the state of Wisconsin vs. William Byrne. Byrne claims that he was out of the state at the time the case was called and it was impossible for him to get here. The motion was argued yesterday before Judge Dunwiddie.

Suit Against Church: The attorneys in the case of C. H. Kueck against the Lutheran Evangelical Synod of Michigan appeared in Jesse Earle's office this morning and agreed to adjourn the hearing of the suit until three weeks from today. No pleadings have yet been filed in the case.

Young Ladies Bowl Better: A comparison of the scores which have recently been made in the Tuesday morning Ladies' Club play on the bowling alleys shows a vast improvement over the work of a few weeks ago. The scores are consistently higher, and the regulation balls are being used more generally.

Elected Basket Ball Captain: A meeting has been held of the high school young ladies who are interested in basket ball, and Miss Josephine Fenton has been chosen captain of the first team. Basket ball players are now practicing twice a week, but the probable members of the first team have not yet begun to work.

The Cases in Court: Chief Hogan had a small offering for Judge Fifield this morning. John Hendricks was up for being drunk and disorderly and was given a fine of $5.00 or ten days in jail. Thomas Dougherty was also up for being drunk but he begged so hard to be allowed to go and go to work that Judge Fifield decided to try him and suspended sentence for ten days to see if he would keep his promise.

To Inspect Corps: Mrs. Ada P. Kimberley, senior vice president of the department of Wisconsin W. R. C., has gone to Beloit, where she will inspect the corps of that city this evening. On Friday evening of this week, Mrs. Kimberley will inspect the corps at Fort Atkinson and on next Tuesday evening she goes to Monroe on a similar mission.

MILTON

Milton, Nov. 18.—Among those who have already signified their intention to be present at the installation of President Daland are President Harper, University of Chicago; Acting President Birge, University of Wisconsin; President Plantz, Lawrence University; President Sabin, Downer College; President Hughes, Ripon College; President Davis, Alfred (N. Y.) University; Rev. A. J. Tittsworth, Milwaukee; State Superintendent L. D. Harvey, Geo. W. Post, M. D.

Daniel Brundage, who has been in failing health for some time, died Friday night at the home of his son-in-law, W. P. Marquart. He was seventy-six years of age and came to Milton from New York state in 1849 and since that time has followed the occupation of a farmer. The funeral took place Sunday afternoon from the house and was conducted by Rev. T. W. North, pastor of the M. E. church. Burial was made in the cemetery at this place.

The remains of Mrs. Nancy Baldwin, who died in Chicago, were brought here for burial beside her husband Saturday. The funeral took place at the Seventh-Day Baptist church, of which deceased was a member, and was conducted by her pastor, Rev. Dr. Platts. "Aunt" Baldwin came to Milton in an early day and prior to her removal to Chicago, a year or more since, had made it her home. She was in her ninety-fifth year and despite her age retained her mental faculties in a marked degree.

Mrs. T. A. Saunders was a Chicago visitor last week.

The young people of the M. E. church gave a reception to Miss Grace Todd, a returned missionary from China, at their church parlors Friday evening. Miss Todd appeared in Chinese costume and gave an interesting account of the country and its people and of her work there.

Music, music and mirth is the attraction in the Star lecture course at Good Templars hall on Monday evening, Nov. 24.

The King's Daughters will give a reception to the Milton Junction circle to-morrow (Thursday) afternoon at Good Templars hall.

We are "on the map" sure. Dr. A. C. Davis and wife, of New York state, named their new born son, "Milton Daland" in honor of the village, its college and president. If that boy lives, he'll get to the front.

D. J. McLean, of Rock Prairie, was in town Friday.

Mrs. Lydia Maxson is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Simmons, at Viola.

Mrs. E. H. Gifford and daughter, of Janesville, visited Milton relatives last week.

Ray Holland, who was taken to Chicago last week for an operation, died Friday night in that city and his parents brought his remains home Saturday night. The operation disclosed the fact that his spine was fractured in three places. The funeral took place today from the house and the burial was made at Hebron.

O. E. Orcutt went to Union Grove, Monday on business.

Mrs. Geo. W. Steele, of Whitewater, was the guest of Dr. C. E. Crandall and wife Friday and Mrs. Crandall spent Saturday with Mrs. S. in Whitewater.

Jno. M. Home, of Milwaukee, spent Sunday and Monday here.

Dr. A. L. Burdick and wife, of Janesville, were in town Sunday.

JOHNSTOWN

Johnstown, Nov. 17.—Burglars entered the home of T. Sheridan Friday night by raising one of the chamber windows, going down through the house, entering the sleeping room where Mr. Sheridan was sleeping. He was awakened by some one bending over him with his hand under his pillow. The burglar not finding any money backed in to a closet near by as they supposed and Mrs. Sheridan ran to the hotel for assistance, but on her return could find no trace of him.

The town board have appointed Peter McFarlane clerk to fill the place vacated by the death of George Chandler, who has filled that office for the last twenty-seven years.

James White had the misfortune to lose another one of his horses last Friday night.

WILL REORGANIZE BICYCLE COMPANY

Receivers Will Turn the American Bicycle Company Over to the Stockholders Soon

(Special By Scripps-McLan.)

New York, Nov. 18.—There is every prospect that the American Bicycle company will be turned over to the stockholders before the end of the month. The receivers have been in almost daily consultation with Vermilye & Co., who are to finance the reorganizing of the company, and the plans are rapidly approaching completion. A director of the company said today that the reorganization plan contemplated a radical reduction in the capital stock of the concern. He added:

"The capitalization includes $20,000,000 common stock, $10,000,000 preferred stock, and $9,500,000 is in 5 per cent. debenture bonds. The plan is to merge these bonds into the preferred stock and to levy an assessment on the common.

"The business of the company has been so systematized and concentrated since the receivership that its management will be a simple matter. In the selling department alone there has been effected, by this concentration, an annual saving of $300,000. This has been accomplished by reducing the bicycle manufacturing plants to six."

Negotiations are pending between the American Bicycle company and the independent manufacturers which will probably lead to an increase in the price of bicycles.

Enriching the Vocabulary.
New York congressmen may not make the laws of the nation, but the New York gamlin helps make the language. "Scrunger" is the latest word. It means "a fellow wot don't want to give anything." Usually not a politician.
